1917 WIPES UP 1918, 18 TO 8

Passing Good, But Forwards Weak

The first game between the Juniors and Sophomores on Tuesday, won by the Juniors with a score of 18 to 8, was uninteresting from the onlookers' point of view. The score shows what an easy victory was 1917's. During the first half they outplayed their opponents in every way with the possible exception of the guarding, for 1918's guards, C. Fiske and T. Howell, would have made a strong defence against players less quick and accurate in throwing than S. Jelliffe, L. Brown, N. McFaden, E. Emerson, and H. Harris. In the second half 1918's passing improved materially and they held their opponents to a greater extent, but time after time the forwards seemed unable to put the ball in the basket after it had been passed to them.

Line-up:

N. McFaden	R. F.	D. Kuhn
E. Emerson	L. F.	M. Stauss

Field goals—1917: Harris, 2; Emerson, 1; S. Jelliffe, 2; L. Brown, 3. 1918: Stauss, 3.
Subs—1918: P. Turle for H. Schwarz.

SUN SHINES ON MAY DAY GAMBOLS

The weather May Day was the best in years. 1916 is to be congratulated on its good luck in this respect and its good management in winding its May Pole. The old Indian necklace which President Thomas gave the Senior President, C. Kellen, has been worn by a princess and is supposed to possess magic charms.

MISS APPLEBEE GIVES CUP FOR CLASS CHAMPIONSHIP

M. Thompson Athletic President

The Athletic Association met Monday evening for the officers' reports, the annual election of officers and, unexpectedly, to receive from Miss Applebee a silver cup given in honour of 1916 to be held by the class securing the all round athletic championship.

The elected are: President, M. Thompson '17; vice-president and indoor manager, V. Litchfield '17; outdoor manager, M. Stauss '18; secretary, T. Howell '18; treasurer, E. Lanier '19; cheer leader, H. Harris '17.

High Praise from Miss Applebee for 1916

In presenting the cup, Miss Applebee congratulated the Seniors upon their "wisdom, integrity, and good spirit", and said that it was to honour their achievement in bringing back to Bryn Mawr the best kind of athletic spirit that she was giving the trophy. T. Howell's treasurer's report was read and an informal and most interesting report from M. Branson as president.

Large Majority in Nominations

Nominations were unanimously made elections in the cases of M. Thompson, V. Litchfield, M. Stauss and T. Howell. The candidates nearest to E. Lanier, and over whom she was elected, were F. Clarke and G. Hearne.

PROGRAM OF SHAKESPEARE FETE

Bryn Mawr will celebrate the Tercentenary Anniversary of Shakespeare on Saturday, May 6th, in a festival to be held from 2-7 P. M. in the cloisters.

The girls of the Irwin School, Philadelphia, trained by Mr. Samuel Arthur King, will present "As You Like It" at 2 P. M. in the Hollow. At 4 P. M. the Fuller Sisters will give a song recital in the Cloisters interspersed with Old English country dances by the Freshmen. Refreshments will be served in the Cloisters, and supper on Denbigh Green. There will be dancing later in the Tea Room. The whole festival is to complete the fund for the Garrett Memorial. Admission to everything is $2.00 for outsiders and $1.50 for members of the College.

NATIONAL SUFFRAGIST TO SPEAK

Dr. Shaw's Story of a Pioneer

The Reverend Anna Howard Shaw, Honorary President of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, will speak on Friday, May 5th, at an open meeting of the Bryn Mawr Equal Suffrage League on "Suffrage in 1850 and 1916". After the lecture, the Suffrage Club will give a reception to Dr. Shaw and its guests in Rockefeller.

Dr. Shaw is well known to those who have not heard her speak by newspaper and magazine accounts and by her autobiography, "The Story of a Pioneer".

The book, published in September 1915 is a remarkable document of a remarkable life. It tells of her family's sailing when she was four years old from England to America, of its struggle in the wilderness of northern Michigan, and finally of her own career.

The book possesses the same quiet power and graphic intimate style which mark Dr. Shaw as a speaker. It is crowded with anecdotes of crossing railroad trestles through floods, of preventing panics in lecture halls set on fire by the party against which she was talking, and of all-night journeys in freight cars, engines, and cabooses. It mentions appreciately the work of President Thomas and Miss Garrett in helping Susan Anthony and the suffrage cause.

Dr. Shaw has lectured in every State in the Union and has spoken before committees of both Houses of Congress. She was the first ordained woman to preach in Berlin, Copenhagen, Christiana, Amsterdam, and London. She was President from 1904 to 1914 of the National American Woman Suffrage Association.

NEW EXECUTIVES OF SELF-GOV. ARE FORMER 1917 PRESIDENTS

C. Stevens and C. Hall Elected

Caroline Stevens '17, member of the Executive Board of Self-Government for the past year, was elected last Monday President of the Students' Association for Self-Government. C. Hall, the second 1917 member of the Executive Board, was elected vice-president on Tuesday. H. Harris '17, President of the Junior Class, ran against the winning candidates in both elections.

Miss Stevens was Class President her Sophomore year and Miss Hall her Freshman year. Both of them have played fullback for three seasons on 1917's first water-polo team. Miss Stevens made varsity tennis in 1915 and captains

D. SHIPLEY '17 PRESIDENT OF UNDERGRADUATE ASSOCIATION

A. Werner Reads Report of Past Year

The Undergraduate Association elections for 1916-17 are: D. Shipley '17, president; V. Kneeland '18, vice-president and treasurer; L. Hodges '18, secretary, and J. Peabody '19, assistant treasurer. The report for the past year was read and approved.

In her report, Miss Werner said that when the present administration went into office last year, the cut rule had not yet been decided; that on June 2nd the Association received a note to the effect that from September of 1915 the cutting would be regulated by the students with warning from the faculty when excessive. The statistics of last year and this show that the amount of cutting has been less since the students began to control it. "This has been due", said Miss Werner, "to the stand taken by the Association and to the strength of public opinion, and next year it will depend on the members of the Association whether the present system continues to be successful".

Committees Do Good Work

Miss Werner said that the Advisory Board this year has become more important, since it has been made an advisory board to President Thomas. She spoke of the various motions passed during the year, one of the most important of which is that Freshman Parade Song can not be parodied after the band starts playing in Pembroke Arch.

She said that President Thomas had granted the request of the Association with regard to sending a written explanation to the President of all cases where students have been suspended or expelled for the infraction of College rules. She emphasized the improvements of the Lost and Found Bureau and of the Denbigh Fiction Library, and mentioned the forming of a new committee to run the Tea Room. "The present interest of the Association is in raising funds for the Garrett Memorial", said Miss Werner in conclusion, "and the fund should be completed by the Shakespearean Festivals if every student does her part well".

1919 WINS FIRST BASKET-BALL GAME FROM 1916

Playing Fast But Inaccurate.

In the first game of the series between 1916 and 1919, played Monday, the Freshmen were the winners by a score of 12 to 6. The game was marked by energy and speed, but also by a great deal of fouling and fumbling. M. Peacock ran up the Freshman score eight points and shot two spectacular goals. M. France '19 was remarkably sure in catching and accurate in passing. 1916 gained most of their points through M. Branson's steady throwing of foul goals.

Entered as second-class matter September 26, 1914, at the post office at Bryn Mawr, Pa., under the Act of March 3, 1879

At the recent meeting of the Athletic Association another instance of Bryn Mawr's unquestioned acceptance of senseless laws appeared, when it was voted to make the second Senior member of the Board Vice-President of the Association. In the past the second Senior member has been Indoor Manager only, while the Sophomore member has been Vice-President as well as Treasurer. Although this has not to our knowledge led to any serious consequences so far, it might easily do so if the President were ill or away when important matters arose and the Sophomore member became swamped in responsibilities which she could not be expected to meet. One is tempted, as one always is when a mistake has suddenly been discovered and righted, to ask how such a mistake ever occurred. It is to be hoped that this is a sign of the dawn of an era of common sense at Bryn Mawr when the idolatry of tradition will no longer hold us in its deadening power.

DR. SCHENK DISCUSSES ATTENDANCE AT CLASSES.

Dr. Eunice Schenk '07, Dean-elect of the College, was the guest at a luncheon given by the New York Bryn Mawr Club on April 26th, where she spoke on the "Field of Student Control in College Government". In referring to the question of attendance at classes, she said: "The system now in operation leaves the regulation of attendance in the hands of the faculty where it has always been at Bryn Mawr, and where as an academic matter I believe it should be. Each instructor is at liberty to handle the matter as seems best to him. At the same time the active coöperation of the student body exists.

The splendid attitude of the students, when brought face to face with a cut rule, persuaded the faculty to make this experiment which provides a minimum of regulation and is therefore dependent for its success upon a strong public sentiment against cutting. It is impossible to judge the system by the statistics of only one semester, but the evident satisfaction felt by both faculty and students with regard to the new arrangement leads one to hope that it will work out effectively".

MR. LEO STEIN DISCUSSES PAINTING THEORY

As Both Artist and Philosopher

Modern painting was the subject of Mr. Leo Stein's lecture in Taylor Hall last Friday evening. Mr. Stein is an American, a Harvard man, who has spent many years studying abroad in Paris and Italy. He has served his time in the studios, and looks at art from the point of view of the professional painter as well as that of the philosopher.

On Friday evening he began his talk by reading a paper on aesthetics and the relation of art to life. He traced the purpose of art from the Renaissance, showing how it had come from pure illustration and the expression of things seen, to the desire, so present in modern painting, to create.

Present Art Combines Old and New
Mr. Stein has known intimately several modern painters, and has himself a large collection of their pictures. After reading his paper, he pointed out that the art of to-day as undertaken by a painter such as Cezanne, is the attempt to combine the unity of rhythm and the coherence of the new painting with the richness and stateliness of the old. Cezanne, with his many followers in Paris, is called the greatest power in the new movement, the aim of which is to create, not to express, a vision. Matisse he mentioned as the greatest of his followers, simplifying the scale of the master with a fierce devastating unity. Renoir he declared the greatest painter for sheer painting since Rubens, and suggested Picasso as the Raphael of to-day. "The chief difference between Raphael and Picasso", he said, "is that Raphael painted illustration at a time when illustration was wanted, whereas Picasso has come when it no longer satisfies people's needs".

Cubism Result of Metaphysics

"The idea suddenly occurred to painters", explained Mr. Stein, "of painting the fourth dimension because of the sense of freedom it afforded them". The speaker confessed his inability to see the significance of cubist art, and said that it is beginning to die out. "Painters", he said, "are just reaching that point of abstraction passed long since by people interested in philosophy, but they are beginning to admit that a little more concreteness cannot harm their art; painting metaphysics is painting nothing. These painters only see their own pictures, for one cubist can no more understand another cubist than you or I. This movement, therefore", he concluded, "is interesting not so much from the point of view of art, but rather as a social phenomenon".
